WELCOME!

I am so honored that you have chosen to join us to get equipped and inspired in your leadership!

At the Global Leadership Network, we believe influence is at the core of leadership—wherever you are, you have influence. Whether you are in ministry, non-profit work, business, education, healthcare, military, government, running a household, a student or even serving time—your leadership matters. Only you can bring your strengths, ideas and passions into a world that is hungry for positive transformation. This is why we gather for The Global Leadership Summit!

But I would be remiss not to recognize that for many of us, today we gather with a heavier weight on our shoulders than we've ever experienced before. The truth is, leadership has been hard over the last several months as we've navigated an unprecedented global health crisis and faced the reality of the still ever-present social injustice in our country. There is much to be done in our world.

We must wade into the fray. We must speak up for those on the margins. We must identify what is wrong and work for what is good.

So, today we come together to learn from one another and some incredible leaders and influencers from various industries and backgrounds. Each guest faculty member was thoughtfully chosen to speak from their areas of expertise and experience—and truly, there is something to learn from everyone. To get the most out of your experience, be open to what you might learn, even from those who may have different perspectives than you. Let yourself be surprised as you seek to grow in your leadership today.

My hope is that you come away from #GLS20 with fresh ideas, actionable concepts and inspiring leadership principles to apply right back into your everyday life at work, home, school or in your community as you seek to use your influence for good.

Together in the cause,

Tom De Vries

THE OUTCOME OF THE GLOBAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT AROUND THE WORLD

Your donation today helps bring the 2020 GLS to places like U.S. prisons, Liberia, Venezuela and another 123 countries this year.

Every gift, of any size really matters.

Give today at GiveGLS.org

One thing that has me in awe about The Global Leadership Summit is the outlook you carry—that including us prisoners in your mission is of great importance. Labeled as outcasts and menaces to society, you show by your efforts in making the events available to us that you see us as Christ sees us—valuable.

Alejandro, GLS attendee at Heritage Trails Correctional Facility, U.S.

It's easy to go to a leadership conference and write yourself off saying, I don't fit in because I'm not leading an organization, or I'm only 13. But because I heard that message over and over—everyone has influence—I saw my life in a different way. I realized my life isn't just about me. If everyone really has influence, leadership development matters, even as a 13-year-old.

Hannah Gronowski, GLS attendee, U.S.

The GLS is critical. In many areas of the world, there are multiple avenues people can pursue to fine-tune their leadership ability. But this is not true in countries like mine. Having done this for about 9 years, the GLS has now become a household word. And the result is transformation. Inevitably it's creating a better country. It's creating better opportunities for young people. And because we are so global, the ripple effect is creating a better world.

Dr. Katurah Cooper, GLS attendee, Liberia

We believe that the church is the hope for a country like Venezuela. By fortifying the leadership within both the church and business, this will help spur on reconstruction that is to come. Doing that which is right in the eyes of God, coupled with using the abilities He has given us, will allow us to have a better tomorrow. Through the GLS, the church has realized it is playing a massive role in the crucial moment our country finds itself in. Summit attendees view themselves as representatives of hope and capable of doing something for their country.

Alvaro Rea, GLS attendee, Venezuela

In fact, every year, the Summit is hosted in conference rooms, church sanctuaries, auditoriums, community centers, high school gymnasiums and amphitheaters.

"As I've developed my leadership skills through the Summit, I've become more acutely aware of challenges in our community. That's why I'm passionate about community development. We all have a responsibility to lift up both our neighbors and strangers and lend a helping hand whenever possible. As a result of the Summit, our city-wide movement has gained momentum. Without a doubt, Fort Wayne, Indiana is getting better."

Chuck Surack, CEO, Sweetwater Sound

"I've never been a part of a conference that's stronger than the GLS. This is the best conference I've ever been a part of for pure leadership development. Developing a leadership culture is one of the hardest things to do, and the GLS is a catalyst to making that happen at our church. It's our infusion every year that helps us enter into the brokenness in our community."

Step 3: Of the actionable ideas you identified, which ONE action step do you want to commit to applying?

Step 4: Go deeper by solidifying your commitment.

WHO will you share your commitment with? Identify someone to be your leadership development champion and ask them to check back with you in eight days.

HOW will you implement this learning? Be specific. Does it involve your whole team or just you? Does it require additional reading? Do you need to complete some prep work first? In what repeatable ways will you practice this new skill?

WHEN will you start putting the learning into practice? Don't wait. Identify a specific date and time. You may find it helpful to open your phone/calendar right now and schedule your next step with a notification.

Step 5: Go public!

Share your commitment to growth by using the hashtags #SummitONE and #GLS20 on social media.

THE GLOBAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT 2020 IS A
TWO-DAY INVESTMENT IN YOUR LEADERSHIP.

YOU'RE WALKING AWAY WITH A FRESH DOSE OF INSPIRATION AND INSIGHT. NOW WHAT?

Your personal growth is one of the most important investments you can make.

Many people leave the Summit with great intentions and then fail to continue their growth throughout the year.

As you return to your home or your office, you will be tempted to shelve all the ideas, vision and changes you wanted to implement during the Summit. Those ideas will be crowded out by the urgent things of life. Your dreams and plans will fade into the background. And the year will go by, the next conference will roll around and your leadership intentions will not be actualized.

Now is the time to solidify the investment in your leadership.

When a leader gets better—everyone wins.

Make a plan to step into your grander vision and keep growing your leadership all year round!

Sseko Designs

Sseko was started to enable high potential, talented young women in Uganda to continue on to university. These young women work for Sseko in the nine-month gap between secondary school and university, saving part of their income for university. They receive life skills training, are paired with professional mentors and get valuable formal work experience. At the end of their term, Sseko matches their savings 300%. Every woman who has graduated from Sseko has gone on to pursue higher education and is on her way to making our world a more beautiful place.

In addition to our university-bound team, Sseko hires full-time staff primarily from non-profit partners. These women come from all walks of life and face a challenging job market. Sseko is bridging the gap. By creating an environment of dignity, honor, and dedication, Sseko Designs provides the opportunity for women in East Africa to end the cycle of poverty and create a more equitable society.

THE GLOBAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT IN PRISON

BECAUSE EVERYONE HAS INFLUENCE

Inspiring the hearts and minds of those who are incarcerated to ignite transformation in their lives, their families and their communities.

The Global Leadership Summit brings people together to empower better leadership within the organizations and corrections facilities they represent.

In August 2020, The Global Leadership Summit is taking place in 65+ corrections facilities serving 9,000+ incarcerated men and women in the U.S. as we lean into the expertise and support from corrections staff, wardens, chaplains, churches and organizations involved in prison ministry as well as several passionate volunteers and donors.

It was an amazing blessing on its own to be in the presence of such great leaders. I obtained many jewels that made a great impact in my life and gave me that drive I needed to continue to want to do better. This world needs more positive leaders that are going to stand for something, not for our own self gain, but for the better of this world.

Luis, GLS attendee at Century Correction Institute, U.S.

The GLS gave me a vehicle to connect, communicate and engage with the population of people who I'm most interested in serving. With the help of friends and God steering my ship, I have helped bring the Summit to 12 correctional facilities here in Florida! I am committed to the momentum as it builds! It really matters! Why? Leadership is simply one word: Influence. And we all have influence. Including those who are incarcerated.

Erica Averion, Ambassador for Prison Fellowship, Speaker, Writer

GET ON THE FRONT LINES OF THIS INCREDIBLE MOVEMENT!

There are two valuable ways to get involved with The Global Leadership Summit Prison Program and be a part of bringing a message of hope, transformation and value to men and women who are incarcerated within the United States. Host the Summit at your local prison facility or donate to expand the Summit at prison facilities across the United States.

LEADERSHIP TO EMPOWER PURPOSE AND INFLUENCE

BRINGING THE GLOBAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT TO:

- Homeless Shelters
- Human Trafficking Survivors
- Transition Homes
- Crisis Centers
- And More

Because everyone has influence.

The generous support of The Global Leadership Summit audience has made it possible for us to provide FREE online streaming of the GLS to under-resourced audiences who would otherwise not have access to world-class leadership training—those living in homeless shelters or transitional homes, at risk youth, or those served at crisis centers and organizations crafted to support individuals trying to pave a new way.

For more than 25 years, the GLS has equipped and encouraged leaders from around the world. In 2015, the Global Leadership Network (GLN) started bringing the GLS into prisons. In 2020, the GLS will be telecast into 65+ prisons, reaching more than 9,000 incarcerated men and women.

The Global Leadership Network is now expanding its ministry reach by partnering with organizations throughout the U.S. to bring this exclusive and inspiring leadership content at no charge to those who would otherwise never have an opportunity to access it.

I feel we have an opportunity to transform our community further and show them that each individual, whether they have an address or not, is loved by God and one of His children. Through building trust and true relationships with those we serve, I feel we can accomplish this.

Robert Dalhaus III, Executive Director of C-U at Home

My vision has connected me to great people. We've been able to prepare many people for the workforce and help them find jobs. More importantly, we've led many people to Christ during the most broken and destitute times of their lives, and I've seen the homeless statistics in my area decline not just through the work that we are doing, but through many organizations making a difference collectively.
