

MICHAEL JR SESSION NOTES

Known as one of today's most gifted comedians, Michael Jr. brings laughter and understanding to audiences all over the world. Michael has spent a significant portion of his career making laughter commonplace in uncommon places such as homeless shelters and prisons, in addition to empowering his audiences with an appearance in Sony Pictures' feature film War Room as well as a starring roles in Selfie Dad, and MORE THAN FUNNY.

"EVERYONE HAS A SETUP – WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN GIVEN; YOUR PUNCHLINE IS WHAT YOU ARE CALLED TO DELIVER."

PERSONAL REFLECTION

Your setup is what you have been given - your talents, resources, and opportunities. Your punchline is when you use your setup to serve or help other people.

Write down a talent, resource, or opportunity you have been given in the next 30 seconds and then share that with the group.

Michael Jr. mentioned that your set backs are part of your set up, what you have been given to help other people – how does that make sense? How can a setback that you have had help someone else?

GROUP DISCUSSION

Just like a Joke without a punch line is nothing; a life without using what you have been given to help others is empty. Can you think of a time that you used something that you have been given to help others and how did that make you feel?

School is helping us find our punchline in life in a significant way, (what we can do to help others, what we are called to deliver). What is one part of school that you are excited about? Enjoy?

“Set backs are part of your set up”

